

Echoes of Eternity

In the golden light of dawn, A melody begins to spawn.
Nature's symphony, pure and bright, Filling the air with delight. Whispers of the wind so sweet, As flowers dance beneath our feet. Stars above in the midnight sky, Sing a lullaby, as time goes by. With each note, a story told, Of love and dreams, both young and old. In every chord, a memory, Of laughter, tears, and reverie. So let's embrace this song of life, Through joy and sorrow, peace and strife. For music binds us, heart to heart, In its melody, we find our part.
